UK Charitable Partnerships

We’ve given over £5 million since 1997 to community based health and wellbeing charities through the GSK IMPACT Awards.

50% of the funds raised in the UK through Orange United, help support Save the Children’s Born to Read programme.

We currently have 9 partnerships that operate nationally to support people most in need.
Age UK

Chester and Oldham

About the Charity:
Age UK is the largest charity working with and for older people throughout the country, dedicated to helping everyone make the most of later life.

As the population is ageing, the need for support has never been greater. Age UK supports and enables older people to continue living a fulfilling life through a network of around 170 local Age UKs spread across the country, delivering information, advice and a number of other support services.

GSK Support:
GSK is working in partnership with Age UK by supporting the Get Going Together programme. This health and wellbeing initiative focuses on providing the opportunity for older people living with long term health conditions to remain physically active and improve their physical and mental wellbeing. Working on the basis that timely intervention for such people could lessen the risk of repeat hospital admissions.

The project model works with five local Age UKs across England, with the aim of reaching 96,120 older people over the course of 3 years in the following ways:

- Through high-level, specialist activity in small groups or one to one, we will reach and support 1,620 older people (324 older people per local Age UK over a 3 year period)
- Through low-level activity sessions for example Nordic walking, chair based exercises and Tai Chi; we will reach 4,500 older people (900 older people per local Age UK over a 3 year period).
- Through distribution of Age UK information and project-specific marketing collateral, we will reach 90,000 older people over a three year period.

Crisis

Merseyside

About the Charity:
Crisis is determined to end homelessness. The charity helps homeless people rebuild their lives through ground-breaking services and campaigns to end the causes of homelessness.

GSK Support:
GSK’s funding has supported Crisis for more than six years – particularly its creative activities and health services. In the arts GSK has sponsored the charity’s high profile Crisis Commission exhibitions that brought together homeless artists and world renowned names like Tracey Emin and Martin Creed. The arts are important to Crisis, their creative activities offer people the chance to express themselves, find new confidence and motivation to move on with their lives. Many clients who have attended Crisis’ art classes have gone on to forge careers as artists, milliners and sculptors.

GSK also supports Crisis’ health services. Homelessness is very bad for your health. Individuals often need dedicated specialist support to recover from the isolation and hardship of homelessness. Being homeless can have a devastating impact on a person’s mental and physical health. Sadly, the average age of death for homeless people is just 47 years.

Through one-to-one mental health coaching, drop-in opticians’ services, and support accessing GPs, Crisis helps people regain their physical and mental wellbeing after the isolation and hardship of homelessness. Whether it’s by joining a group visit to the theatre, attending a yoga class, or taking part in a football tournament, Crisis offers people a chance to take part in engaging and sociable activities to help them rebuild their self-esteem.

Crisis Skylight Merseyside

Skylight Merseyside run health and well-being classes focusing on:

- ‘Beating the winter blues’
- ‘Relaxation’
- ‘Your Mind Matters’

Scope
Beaumont College, Lancaster

About the Charity:
Scope is a charity that exists to make this country a place where disabled people have the same opportunities as everyone else. It provides support, information and advice to more than 250,000 disabled people and their families every year, raising awareness of the issues that matter.

GSK Support:
GSK has been working with Scope since 2009 supporting many different projects. The GSK sponsored Parent Information Pack gives parents with disabled children the vital information they need to support their child. The guide has recently been revised to include a new film, Games All Children Can Play, which shows how disabled and non-disabled children can easily play together.

In 2010, GSK and Scope launched the Life Skills project at Beaumont College, a specialist further education college in Lancaster. The project encompassed two programmes, 'Continence Management' and 'Plan, Shop, Cook'. GSK has most recently supported Beaumont College's INSPIRE project, an innovative three year project that uses sensory integration techniques to support its young people with sensory processing disorders. These individuals may have neurological impairments such as Cerebral Palsy or developmental disorders such as Autistic Spectrum Disorder.

Theodora Children’s Trust
Royal Manchester Children’s Hospital

About the Charity:
The mission at the heart of the Theodora Children’s Charity is to contribute to the wellbeing of children in hospitals, hospices and specialist care centres by providing visits from professional performers, called Giggle Doctors, who have been trained to work in a medical environment.

GSK Support:
GSK provides funding for 6 Giggle Doctors to visit children at 4 hospitals nationally each year. Extensive research, also funded by GSK, has shown that the Giggle Doctors help to reduce the stresses experienced by sick children during hospitalisation. A stay in hospital, whether overnight or longer term, can be scary and upsetting for children who are away from loved ones. The Giggle Doctors bring magical moments to the children’s wards, day clinics and outpatient departments, brightening the days of these brave children receiving chemotherapy, dialysis and other treatments.

GSK is also title sponsor of the annual WellChild Awards, a ceremony to honour the bravery and tenacity of inspirational children and young people in the UK living with serious illness or complex health conditions, and the healthcare professionals who care for them. The WellChild Awards also serve as an opportunity to help raise further awareness of the many issues faced by these children, young people and their families.

REACH

Covers all of the UK (Based in Vauxhall, London)
  About the Charity:
  Reach Volunteering strengthens the voluntary sector by connecting professionals with the charities and non-profits that would benefit from their skills.
  GSK Support:
  Reach has worked with over 10,000 organisations in the UK and estimates that every year Reach volunteers contribute £10 million of expertise to the organisations they assist. A charity themselves, they have a large and committed team of skilled volunteers who support their staff in providing their vital services throughout the UK.
  GSK funding supports the volunteer placement services of Reach. Last year Reach placed over 700 volunteers and trustees (around 60% of Reach placements were with charities dealing with health & wellbeing, physical & mental disability, counselling and older people). Reach also supports the work of the GSK Impact Award winners offering free governance advice and support and helps them to find volunteers where needed.
Music in Hospitals (MiH)
Cover all of North England (based in Manchester)

About the Charity:
Music in Hospitals (MiH) was established in 1948 with a mission to improve the quality of life of children, adults and elderly people suffering from illness or disability by delivering uplifting and therapeutic live music performances in the healthcare sector.

GSK Support:
With the support of GSK, MiH has been able to provide an extensive programme of performances to benefit older people through concerts held primarily in care homes, hospitals, at bedsides and in lounges.

With GSK, MiH monitors and evaluates these concerts to measure the responses to the music. Most of the care patients suffer from some long term condition such as dementia or Alzheimer’s. Through the three years that the programme has been running there has been over 50% increase in communication, over 60% increase in self-confidence, social interaction and ability to reminisce in the care patients.

Down’s Syndrome Association (DSA)
Teddington

About the Charity:
The Down’s Syndrome Association is a charity which supports people with Down’s syndrome throughout their lives.

GSK Support:
For the past 45 years, the Down’s Syndrome Association has been offering support and advice to people with Down’s Syndrome, their families and carers. The charity also works hard to improve knowledge and understanding of the condition throughout the wider population.

GSK sponsors their annual ‘My Perspective’ photography competition, in partnership with the Down’s Syndrome Association’s ‘Shifting Perspectives’ project. The competition gives people with Down’s syndrome the chance to show their view of the world around them.

The winner and finalists are showcased in our headquarters at GSK House Brentford. GSK also sponsors the awards event for the competition, which is held at Kew Gardens.

Over the Wall
Kent

About the Charity:
GSK is proud to work in partnership with the Serious Fun Children's Network, a growing global community of independently managed camps and programs, to help children with serious illness and their families, reach beyond illness to discover joy, confidence and a new world of possibilities.

Over The Wall is a national UK children's charity and a member of the international SeriousFun Children's Network. It is a growing, dynamic charity, which supports over 600 children and families each year across the UK. There is an increasing demand for places at the charity's free of charge Therapeutic Recreation camps, which help children with life-limiting illnesses and their families, reach beyond the perceived limitations of illness to rediscover a whole new world of possibilities.

The 2015 UK residential camps are in Dorset, Perth, Staffordshire, Shropshire, Kent, Fife and Hexham, and are structured on the late Paul Newman's renowned 'Hole in the Wall Gang Camp'. As Paul Newman put it, "A place where kids can kick back, relax and raise a little hell".

Through participation in a proven programme of fun-filled recreational and educational activities, the camps help promote inclusion whilst developing confidence, self esteem, coping strategies and peer relationships of all their campers. They give children one glorious week of experiences that are memorable, exciting, fun and empowering, in a physically safe and medically sound environment.

GSK Support:
GSK and SeriousFun have a shared vision to improve and enhance healthcare for children with serious illnesses. The recreational therapy offered at these camps is an integral part of children's treatment and care. GSK are proud to be a founding partner of Barretstown in Ireland, the first SeriousFun camp in Europe. Since then we've helped establish 5 other camps in Europe: UK, France, Italy, Hungary and Israel. GSK has been SeriousFun's largest corporate donor to date giving over £9 million so that 60,000 children could experience a SeriousFun camp since 1994.
Spark!
Brentford

About the Charity:
Established in 1980, Spark! is an award winning charity that works with education and business entities in the borough of Hounslow to prepare young people for working life and enhance their employability through practical, accredited and inspiring work-related experiences. In an ever competitive job market, this preparation is of utmost importance in order to keep young people equipped to take on the challenges facing them.

GSK Support:
GSK has supported Spark! since 1987 by providing them office space and encouraging employees to take part in their volunteer led activities at schools. Spark! offers a range of sessions in the Hounslow area to get students in secondary schools thinking about work in the future. These sessions include mentoring, mock interview days, speed networking sessions, and industry insight days. The sessions are run by volunteer business professionals from the surrounding area, who offers their own expertise and experiences giving insight for the students of their respective industry.

Thames 21
Wallbrook Wharf, London
(Project in Brent)

About the Charity:
Thames21 is one of the country’s leading waterway charities. They work with communities across Greater London to improve the rivers, canals, ponds and lakes for people and wildlife. The Brent Waterway project uses the waterways, (Grand Union Canal, Brent Feeder, River Brent), to engage and strengthen communities, increase personal volunteering opportunities, and at the same time improve the waterway environments, which will make them more accessible to local people.

GSK Support:
GSK has worked with Thames 21 for many years to support their work in improving London’s waterways, in particular the Grand Union Canal in the Brentford area where GSK is headquartered.

Help for Heroes
Tedworth House, Tidworth, Wiltshire

About the Charity:
Help for Heroes (H4H) works closely with the Royal Navy, Army and Royal Air Force to provide lifelong support to Veterans and Serving personnel who have become wounded or ill, and to the families supporting them in their recovery.

GSK Support:
In 2011, GSK formed a partnership with H4H helping to fund the creation of the Phoenix Centre – a specialist gym complex at Help for Heroes Recovery Centre, Tedworth House in Wiltshire. The Phoenix Centre opened in November 2012 delivering health, sport and exercise programmes to help Servicemen and women along their path to recovery as well as to give them a push towards their physical and psychological fitness goals. These world-class facilities have helped H4H develop its world-leading Sports Recovery Programme. GSK continues to fund the Phoenix Centre, not simply as a corporate donor but also as a pro-bono support system in the form of know-how and expertise. GSK also runs a placement scheme with H4H to try and help veterans back into work.

Covers all of South England (based in Walton-on-Thames)

About the Charity:
Music in Hospitals (MiH) was established in 1948 with a mission to improve the quality of life of children, adults and elderly people suffering from illness or disability by delivering uplifting and therapeutic live music performances in the healthcare sector.

GSK Support:
With the support of GSK, MiH has been able to provide an extensive programme of performances to benefit older people through concerts held primarily in care homes, hospitals, at bedsides and in lounges.

With GSK, MiH monitors and evaluates these concerts to measure the responses to the music. Most of the care patients suffer from some long term condition such as dementia or Alzheimer’s. Through the three years that the programme has been running there has been over 50% increase in communication, over 60% increase in self-confidence, social interaction and ability to reminisce in the care patients.

Over the Wall

Dorset

About the Charity:
GSK is proud to work in partnership with the Serious Fun Children’s Network, a growing global community of independently managed camps and programs, to help children with serious illness and their families, reach beyond illness to discover joy, confidence and a new world of possibilities.

Over The Wall is a national UK children’s charity and a member of the international SeriousFun Children’s Network. It is a growing, dynamic charity, which supports over 600 children and families each year across the UK. There is an increasing demand for places at the charity’s free of charge Therapeutic Recreation camps, which help children with life-limiting illnesses and their families, reach beyond the perceived limitations of illness to rediscover a whole new world of possibilities.

The 2015 UK residential camps are in Dorset, Perth, Staffordshire, Shropshire, Kent, Fife and Hexham, and are structured on the late Paul Newman’s renowned ‘Hole in the Wall Gang Camp’. As Paul Newman put it, “A place where kids can kick back, relax and raise a little hell”.

Through participation in a proven programme of fun-filled recreational and educational activities, the camps help promote inclusion whilst developing confidence, self esteem, coping strategies and peer relationships of all their campers. They give children one glorious week of experiences that are memorable, exciting, fun and empowering, in a physically safe and medically sound environment.

REACH

Covers all of the UK
(Based in Vauxhall, London)

About the Charity:
Reach Volunteering strengthens the voluntary sector by connecting professionals with the charities and non-profits that would benefit from their skills.

GSK Support:
Reach has worked with over 10,000 organisations in the UK and estimates that every year Reach volunteers contribute £10 million of expertise to the organisations they assist. A charity themselves, they have a large and committed team of skilled volunteers who support their staff in providing their vital services throughout the UK.

GSK funding supports the volunteer placement services of Reach. Last year Reach placed over 700 volunteers and trustees (around 60% of Reach placements were with charities dealing with health & wellbeing, physical & mental disability, counselling and older people). Reach also supports the work of the GSK Impact Award winners offering free governance advice and support and helps them to find volunteers where needed.

Alzheimer’s Support
Improving quality of life for people living with dementia, their families and carers. Its influential report ‘Barriers to Diagnosis’ helped change dementia care in Wiltshire, where average diagnosis waiting times fell from 13 months to just 4 weeks. Its Memory Awareness volunteers and training courses all promote understanding of the condition and the benefits of a timely diagnosis.

Off the Record
Providing mental health support and information to young people (aged 11-25) in Bristol and South Gloucestershire. One in 10 young people will suffer mental health problems. Off the Record works across 15 sites providing services for young people. It works to destigmatize mental health and has helped drive the development of youth mental health services in Bristol.

Gloucestershire Young Carers
As many as one in twelve young people in the UK might be caring for someone in their family. Gloucestershire Young Carers supports these young people caring for a family member who may be ill, disabled, experiencing mental ill-health or affected by substance misuse. They aim to create a network of support for young carers across the county.

Wiltshire Centre for Independent Living
Based in Wiltshire, this charity is supporting older people and people with disabilities to make informed choices, leading to full and independent lives in the community. They provide a wide range of services including one-to-one help, peer mentoring, workshops and more. It offers Direct Payment support as well as a Home from Hospital Service.

Age UK
South Tyneside

About the Charity:
Age UK is the largest charity working with and for older people throughout the country, dedicated to helping everyone make the most of later life. As the population is ageing, the need for support has never been greater. Age UK supports and enables older people to continue living a fulfilling life through a network of around 170 local Age UKs spread across the country, delivering information, advice and a number of other support services.

GSK Support:
GSK is working in partnership with Age UK by supporting the Get Going Together programme. This health and wellbeing initiative focuses on providing the opportunity for older people living with long term health conditions to remain physically active and improve their physical and mental wellbeing. Working on the basis that timely intervention for such people could lessen the risk of repeat hospital admissions.

The project model works with five local Age UKs across England, with the aim of reaching 96,120 older people over the course of 3 years in the following ways:

- Through high-level, specialist activity in small groups or one to one, we will reach and support 1,620 older people (324 older people per local Age UK over a 3 year period)
- Through low-level activity sessions for example Nordic walking, chair based exercises and Tai Chi; we will reach 4,500 older people (900 older people per local Age UK over a 3 year period).
- Through distribution of Age UK information and project-specific marketing collateral, we will reach 90,000 older people over a three year period.

WellChild
Newcastle

About the Charity:
There are thousands of children and young people living with a long-term or complex health condition in the UK. WellChild is the national charity working to ensure the best possible care and support for all these children and their families wherever they are and whenever they need it.

GSK Support:
GSK has been in partnership with WellChild since 2007, primarily focusing on the WellChild Children’s Nurse programme, the Medicines for Children online resource for parents and carers, the WellChild Awards, and the WellChild Helping Hands Dinner. GSK is currently funding nine WellChild Children’s Nurse posts at different locations around the UK, helping to ensure that children can be cared for at home rather than in hospital. GSK is also title sponsor of the annual WellChild Awards, a ceremony to honour the bravery and tenacity of inspirational children and young people in the UK living with serious illness or complex health conditions, and the healthcare professionals who care for them. The WellChild Awards also serve as an opportunity to help raise further awareness of the many issues faced by these children, young people and their families.

Crisis Newcastle

About the Charity:
Crisis is determined to end homelessness. The charity helps homeless people rebuild their lives through ground-breaking services and campaigns to end the causes of homelessness.

GSK Support:
GSK’s funding has supported Crisis for more than six years – particularly its creative activities and health services. In the arts GSK has sponsored the charity’s high profile Crisis Commission exhibitions that brought together homeless artists and world renowned names like Tracey Emin and Martin Creed. The arts are important to Crisis, their creative activities offer people the chance to express themselves, find new confidence and motivation to move on with their lives. Many clients who have attended Crisis’ art classes have gone on to forge careers as artists, milliners and sculptors.

GSK also supports Crisis’ health services. Homelessness is very bad for your health. Individuals often need dedicated specialist support to recover from the isolation and hardship of homelessness. Being homeless can have a devastating impact on a person’s mental and physical health. Sadly, the average age of death for homeless people is just 47 years.

Health and Well-being Weekend
Every year Crisis Skylight London hosts a dedicated weekend, where guests can access general and specialised health checks, dental checks, and eye exams. They also offer holistic health services and promote healthy lifestyles.

Mental Health Services
Being homeless renders an individual twice as likely to suffer from common mental health issues. Crisis tackles these sensitive problems through counselling, one to one support, dedicated classes and group work. As with every Crisis service, this strand of their work is interlinked, contributing to our holistic approach to finding sustainable solutions to homelessness. The following services are provided:

- Crisis mental health coordinator service weekdays for 7 hours a day
- counselling service
- weekly mental health & well-being drop-in sessions
- monthly mental health discussion forum called Ups and Downs: Your Mind Matters
- quarterly mental health workshops entitled ‘Your Mind Matters’. These focus on topics such as Managing Anger, Managing Anxiety and Stress and Mindfulness and Meditation
- one-to-one counselling sessions
- Crisis Christmas ‘befriending’ service
Theodora Children’s Trust
Great Ormond Street Hospital (GOSH)

About the Charity:
The mission at the heart of the Theodora Children’s Charity is to contribute to the wellbeing of children in hospitals, hospices and specialist care centres by providing visits from professional performers, called Giggle Doctors, who have been trained to work in a medical environment.

GSK Support:
GSK provides funding for 6 Giggle Doctors to visit children at 4 hospitals nationally each year. Extensive research, also funded by GSK, has shown that the Giggle Doctors help to reduce the stresses experienced by sick children during hospitalisation. A stay in hospital, whether overnight or longer term, can be scary and upsetting for children who are away from loved ones. The Giggle Doctors bring magical moments to the children’s wards, day clinics and outpatient departments, brightening the days of these brave children receiving chemotherapy, dialysis and other treatments.

Help for Heroes
Leicester Square, London

About the Charity:
Help for Heroes (H4H) works closely with the Royal Navy, Army and Royal Air Force to provide lifelong support to Veterans and Serving personnel who have become wounded or ill, and to the families supporting them in their recovery.

GSK Support:
In 2011, GSK formed a partnership with H4H helping to fund the creation of the Phoenix Centre – a specialist gym complex at Help for Heroes Recovery Centre, Tedworth House in Wiltshire. The Phoenix Centre opened in November 2012 delivering health, sport and exercise programmes to help Servicemen and women along their path to recovery as well as to give them a push towards their physical and psychological fitness goals. These world-class facilities have helped H4H develop its world-leading Sports Recovery Programme. GSK continues to fund the Phoenix Centre, not simply as a corporate donor but also as a pro-bono support system in the form of know-how and expertise. GSK also runs a placement scheme with H4H to try and help veterans back into work.

Charities

Scope
Caledonian Road, London

About the Charity:
Scope is a charity that exists to make this country a place where disabled people have the same opportunities as everyone else.

It provides support, information and advice to more than 250,000 disabled people and their families every year, raising awareness of the issues that matter.

GSK Support:
GSK has been working with Scope since 2009 supporting many different projects. The GSK sponsored Parent Information Pack gives parents with disabled children the vital information they need to support their child. The guide has recently been revised to include a new film, Games All Children Can Play, which shows how disabled and non-disabled children can easily play together.

In 2010, GSK and Scope launched the Life Skills project at Beaumont College, a specialist further education college in Lancaster. The project encompassed two programmes, 'Continence Management' and 'Plan, Shop, Cook!'. GSK has most recently supported Beaumont College’s INSPIRE project, an innovative three year project that uses sensory integration techniques to support its young people with sensory processing disorders. These individuals may have neurological impairments such as Cerebral Palsy or developmental disorders such as Autistic Spectrum Disorder.

Science Museum
South Kensington

About the Organisation:
The Science Museum was founded in 1857 as part of the South Kensington Museum, and gained independence in 1909. Today the Museum is world renowned for its historic collections, awe-inspiring galleries and inspirational exhibitions.

GSK Support:
As a science-led company, GSK has been a corporate member of the Science Museum for over 20 years. During this time we have supported a number of different exhibitions and installations promoting health and wellbeing. This can be seen most recently in the ‘Cravings’ exhibition, which explores the science behind hunger, appetite, and cravings and runs until early January 2016. GSK also funded a permanent gallery at the Science Museum called the ‘Who Am I?’ Gallery, which explores the characteristics that make each of us unique.

Thames 21
Wallbrook Wharf, London (Project in Brent)

About the Charity:
Thames21 is one of the country’s leading waterway charities. They work with communities across Greater London to improve the rivers, canals, ponds and lakes for people and wildlife. The Brent Waterway project uses the waterways, (Grand Union Canal, Brent Feeder, River Brent), to engage and strengthen communities, increase personal volunteering opportunities, and at the same time improve the waterway environments, which will make them more accessible to local people.

GSK Support:
GSK has worked with Thames 21 for many years to support their work in improving London’s waterways, in particular the Grand Union Canal in the Brentford area where GSK is headquartered.

HELPING TO SAVE ONE MILLION CHILDREN’S LIVES

Born to Read:
GSK is supporting Save the Children’s Born to Read programme.

Across the UK, since launching Born to Read in September 2013, STC have recruited, trained and over 1,000 reading helpers.

With GSK’s support, they have been able to recruit 152 of those volunteers. As each of these volunteers is supporting three children, GSK’s support has enabled STC to help 456 children so far.

The Born to Read programme is currently operating in primary Schools in the following local authorities.

For data protection reasons, the names of the schools can not be disclosed.
Crisis
Oxford

About the Charity:
Crisis is determined to end homelessness. The charity helps homeless people rebuild their lives through ground-breaking services and campaigns to end the causes of homelessness.

GSK Support:
GSK’s funding has supported Crisis for more than six years – particularly its creative activities and health services. In the arts GSK has sponsored the charity’s high profile Crisis Commission exhibitions that brought together homeless artists and world renowned names like Tracey Emin and Martin Creed. The arts are important to Crisis, their creative activities offer people the chance to express themselves, find new confidence and motivation to move on with their lives. Many clients who have attended Crisis’ art classes have gone on to forge careers as artists, milliners and sculptors.

GSK also supports Crisis’ health services. Homelessness is very bad for your health. Individuals often need dedicated specialist support to recover from the isolation and hardship of homelessness. Whether it’s by joining a group visit to the theatre, attending a yoga class, or taking part in a football tournament, Crisis offers people a chance to take part in engaging and sociable activities to help them rebuild their self-esteem.

Crisis Skylight Oxford:
Health and Well-being Classes include:
- Yoga
- Meditation and mindfulness
- Football
- Zumba
- Health and Wellbeing day – the members who attended the day benefited from treatments including aromatherapy, foot massages and reflexology; workshops including healthy eating, MIND (managing strong emotions) and music for health and relaxation and health services including dentistry and GP services.

Mental Health Services
Being homeless renders an individual twice as likely to suffer from common mental health issues.

Crisis tackles these sensitive problems through counselling, one to one support, dedicated classes and group work. As with every Crisis service, this strand of their work is interlinked, contributing to our holistic approach to finding sustainable solutions to homelessness. The following services are provided:
- Weekly mental health & wellbeing drop-in sessions
- Weekly therapy focus groups
- Crisis Mental Health Coordinator service weekdays for 7 hours each day
- One-to-one counselling sessions

Theodora Children’s Trust
Royal Alexandra Children’s Hospital Brighton and Southampton General Hospital

About the Charity:
The mission at the heart of the Theodora Children’s Charity is to contribute to the wellbeing of children in hospitals, hospices and specialist care centres by providing visits from professional performers, called Giggle Doctors, who have been trained to work in a medical environment.

GSK Support:
GSK provides funding for 6 Giggle Doctors to visit children at 4 hospitals nationally each year. Extensive research, also funded by GSK, has shown that the Giggle Doctors help to reduce the stresses experienced by sick children during hospitalisation. A stay in hospital, whether overnight or longer term, can be scary and upsetting for children who are away from loved ones. The Giggle Doctors bring magical moments to the children’s wards, day clinics and outpatient departments, brightening the days of these brave children receiving chemotherapy, dialysis and other treatments.

WellChild
Southampton

About the Charity:
There are thousands of children and young people living with a long-term or complex health condition in the UK. WellChild is the national charity working to ensure the best possible care and support for all these children and their families wherever they are and whenever they need it.

GSK Support:
GSK has been in partnership with WellChild since 2007, primarily focusing on the WellChild Children’s Nurse programme, the Medicines for Children online resource for parents and carers, the WellChild Awards, and the WellChild Helping Hands Dinner. GSK is currently funding nine WellChild Children’s Nurse posts at different locations around the UK, helping to ensure that children can be cared for at home rather than in hospital. GSK is also title sponsor of the annual WellChild Awards, a ceremony to honour the bravery and tenacity of inspirational children and young people in the UK living with serious illness or complex health conditions, and the healthcare professionals who care for them. The WellChild Awards also serve as an opportunity to help raise further awareness of the many issues faced by these children, young people and their families.

Music in Hospitals (MiH)
Covers all of South England (based in Walton-on-Thames)

About the Charity:
Music in Hospitals (MiH) was established in 1948 with a mission to improve the quality of life of children, adults and elderly people suffering from illness or disability by delivering uplifting and therapeutic live music performances in the healthcare sector.

GSK Support:
With the support of GSK, MiH has been able to provide an extensive programme of performances to benefit older people through concerts held primarily in care homes, hospitals, at bedsides and in lounges.

With GSK, MiH monitors and evaluates these concerts to measure the responses to the music. Most of the care patients suffer from some long-term condition such as dementia or Alzheimer’s. Through the three years that the programme has been running there has been over 50% increase in communication, over 60% increase in self-confidence, social interaction and ability to reminisce in the care patients.

REACH
Covers all of the UK (Based in Vauxhall, London)

About the Charity:
Reach Volunteering strengthens the voluntary sector by connecting professionals with the charities and non-profits that would benefit from their skills.

GSK Support:
Reach has worked with over 10,000 organisations in the UK and estimates that every year Reach volunteers contribute £10 million of expertise to the organisations they assist. A charity themselves, they have a large and committed team of skilled volunteers who support their staff in providing their vital services throughout the UK.

GSK funding supports the volunteer placement services of Reach. Last year Reach placed over 700 volunteers and trustees (around 60% of Reach placements were with charities dealing with health & wellbeing, physical & mental disability, counselling and older people). Reach also supports the work of the GSK Impact Award winners offering free governance advice and support and helps them to find volunteers where needed.
This is the 19th year of the annual GSK IMPACT Awards in partnerships with The Kings Fund. To date we’ve given over £5 million to over 400 community healthcare charities across the UK. The awards are open to registered charities that are at least three years old, working in a health-related field in the UK, with a total annual income between £25,000 and £2 million.

To date the GSK IMPACT Awards have given over £434,000 to charities in South Central England.

Age UK

Crisis

Crisis Birmingham and Coventry & Warwickshire

About the Charity:

Age UK is the largest charity working with and for older people throughout the country, dedicated to helping everyone make the most of later life.

As the population is ageing, the need for support has never been greater. Age UK supports and enables older people to continue living a fulfilling life through a network of around 170 local Age UKs spread across the country, delivering information, advice and a number of other support services.

About the Charity:

Crisis is determined to end homelessness. The charity helps homeless people rebuild their lives through ground-breaking services and campaigns to end the causes of homelessness.

GSK Support:

GSK is working in partnership with Age UK by supporting the Get Going Together programme. This health and wellbeing initiative focuses on providing the opportunity for older people living with long term health conditions to remain physically active and improve their physical and mental wellbeing. Working on the basis that timely intervention for such people could lessen the risk of repeat hospital admissions.

The project model works with five local Age UKs across England, with the aim of reaching 96,120 older people over the course of 3 years in the following ways:

- Through high-level, specialist activity in small groups or one to one, we will reach and support 1,620 older people (324 older people per local Age UK over a 3 year period)
- Through low-level activity sessions for example Nordic walking, chair based exercises and Tai Chi; we will reach 4,500 older people (900 older people per local Age UK over a 3 year period).
- Through distribution of Age UK information and project-specific marketing collateral, we will reach 90,000 older people over a three year period.

GSK Support:

GSK’s funding has supported Crisis for more than six years – particularly its creative activities and health services. In the arts GSK has sponsored the charity’s high profile Crisis Commission exhibitions that brought together homeless artists and world renowned names like Tracey Emin and Martin Creed. The arts are important to Crisis, their creative activities offer people the chance to express themselves, find new confidence and motivation to move on with their lives. Many clients who have attended Crisis’ art classes have gone on to forge careers as artists, milliners and sculptors.

GSK also supports Crisis’ health services. Homelessness is very bad for your health. Individuals often need dedicated specialist support to recover from the isolation and hardship of homelessness. Being homeless can have a devastating impact on a person’s mental and physical health. Sadly, the average age of death for homeless people is just 47 years.

Through one-to-one mental health coaching, drop-in opticians’ services, and support accessing GPs, Crisis helps people regain their physical and mental wellbeing after the isolation and hardship of homelessness. Whether it’s by joining a group visit to the theatre, attending a yoga class, or taking part in a football tournament, Crisis offers people a chance to take part in engaging and sociable activities to help them rebuild their self-esteem.

Over the Wall
Staffordshire and Shropshire

About the Charity:
GSK is proud to work in partnership with the Serious Fun Children’s Network, a growing global community of independently managed camps and programs, to help children with serious illness and their families, reach beyond illness to discover joy, confidence and a new world of possibilities.

Over The Wall is a national UK children’s charity and a member of the international SeriousFun Children’s Network. It is a growing, dynamic charity, which supports over 600 children and families each year across the UK. There is an increasing demand for places at the charity’s free of charge Therapeutic Recreation camps, which help children with life-limiting illnesses and their families, reach beyond the perceived limitations of illness to rediscover a whole new world of possibilities.

The 2015 UK residential camps are in Dorset, Perth, Staffordshire, Shropshire, Kent, Fife and Hexham, and are structured on the late Paul Newman’s renowned ‘Hole in the Wall Gang Camp’. As Paul Newman put it, “A place where kids can kick back, relax and raise a little hell”.

Through participation in a proven programme of fun-filled recreational and educational activities, the camps help promote inclusion whilst developing confidence, self esteem, coping strategies and peer relationships of all their campers. They give children one glorious week of experiences that are memorable, exciting, fun and empowering, in a physically safe and medically sound environment.

GSK Support:
GSK and SeriousFun have a shared vision to improve and enhance healthcare for children with serious illnesses. The recreational therapy offered at these camps is an integral part of children’s treatment and care. GSK are proud to be a founding partner of Barretstown in Ireland, the first SeriousFun camp in Europe. Since then we’ve helped establish 5 other camps in Europe: UK, France, Italy, Hungary and Israel. GSK has been SeriousFun’s largest corporate donor to date giving over £9 million so that 60,000 children could experience a SeriousFun camp since 1994.
This is the 19th year of the annual GSK IMPACT Awards in partnerships with The Kings Fund. To date we’ve given over £5 million to over 400 community healthcare charities across the UK. The awards are open to registered charities that are at least three years old, working in a health-related field in the UK, with a total annual income between £25,000 and £2 million.

REACH
Covers all of the UK
(Based in Vauxhall, London)

About the Charity:
Reach Volunteering strengthens the voluntary sector by connecting professionals with the charities and non-profits that would benefit from their skills.

GSK Support:
Reach has worked with over 10,000 organisations in the UK and estimates that every year Reach volunteers contribute £10 million of expertise to the organisations they assist. A charity themselves, they have a large and committed team of skilled volunteers who support their staff in providing their vital services throughout the UK.

GSK funding supports the volunteer placement services of Reach. Last year Reach placed over 700 volunteers and trustees (around 60% of Reach placements were with charities dealing with health & wellbeing, physical & mental disability, counselling and older people). Reach also supports the work of the GSK Impact Award winners offering free governance advice and support and helps them to find volunteers where needed.

Music in Hospitals (MiH)
Covers all of Wales
(based in Cardiff)

About the Charity:
Music in Hospitals (MiH) was established in 1948 with a mission to improve the quality of life of children, adults and elderly people suffering from illness or disability by delivering uplifting and therapeutic live music performances in the healthcare sector.

GSK Support:
With the support of GSK, MiH has been able to provide an extensive programme of performances to benefit older people through concerts held primarily in care homes, hospitals, at bedsides and in lounges.

With GSK, MiH monitors and evaluates these concerts to measure the responses to the music. Most of the care patients suffer from some long term condition such as dementia or Alzheimer’s. Through the three years that the programme has been running there has been over 50% increase in communication, over 60% increase in self-confidence, social interaction and ability to reminisce in the care patients.
This is the 19th year of the annual GSK IMPACT Awards in partnerships with The Kings Fund. To date we’ve given over £5 million to over 400 community healthcare charities across the UK. The awards are open to registered charities that are at least three years old, working in a health-related field in the UK, with a total annual income between £25,000 and £2 million.

To date the GSK IMPACT Awards have given over £32,000 to charities in North Wales.

Notes:
- This list details ‘Winner’, ‘Highly commended’ and ‘Runner up’ charities from the past 10 years only
- If a charity is no longer operating, they have not been included in the list
- Charity descriptions are only provided for ‘Winners’ over the past 2 years

Over the Wall

About the Charity:
GSK is proud to work in partnership with the Serious Fun Children’s Network, a growing global community of independently managed camps and programs, to help children with serious illness and their families, reach beyond illness to discover joy, confidence and a new world of possibilities.

Over The Wall is a national UK children’s charity and a member of the international SeriousFun Children’s Network. It is a growing, dynamic charity, which supports over 600 children and families each year across the UK. There is an increasing demand for places at the charity’s free of charge Therapeutic Recreation camps, which help children with life-limiting illnesses and their families, reach beyond the perceived limitations of illness to rediscover a whole new world of possibilities.

The 2015 UK residential camps are in Dorset, Perth, Staffordshire, Shropshire, Kent, Fife and Hexham, and are structured on the late Paul Newman’s renowned ‘Hole in the Wall Gang Camp’. As Paul Newman put it, “A place where kids can kick back, relax and raise a little hell”.

Through participation in a proven programme of fun-filled recreational and educational activities, the camps help promote inclusion whilst developing confidence, self esteem, coping strategies and peer relationships of all their campers. They give children one glorious week of experiences that are memorable, exciting, fun and empowering, in a physically safe and medically sound environment.

GSK Support:
GSK and SeriousFun have a shared vision to improve and enhance healthcare for children with serious illnesses. The recreational therapy offered at these camps is an integral part of children’s treatment and care. GSK are proud to be a founding partner of Barretstown in Ireland, the first SeriousFun camp in Europe. Since then we’ve helped establish 5 other camps in Europe: UK, France, Italy, Hungary and Israel. GSK has been SeriousFun’s largest corporate donor to date giving over £9 million so that 60,000 children could experience a SeriousFun camp since 1994.
This is the 19th year of the annual GSK IMPACT Awards in partnerships with The Kings Fund.
To date we’ve given over £5 million to over 400 community healthcare charities across the UK.
The awards are open to registered charities that are at least three years old, working in a health-related field in the UK, with a total annual income between £25,000 and £2 million.

To date the GSK IMPACT Awards have given over £111,000 to charities in North Scotland.

Crisis

About the Charity:
Crisis is determined to end homelessness. The charity helps homeless people rebuild their lives through ground-breaking services and campaigns to end the causes of homelessness.

GSK Support:
GSK’s funding has supported Crisis for more than six years – particularly its creative activities and health services. In the arts GSK has sponsored the charity’s high profile Crisis Commission exhibitions that brought together homeless artists and world renowned names like Tracey Emin and Martin Creed. The arts are important to Crisis, their creative activities offer people the chance to express themselves, find new confidence and motivation to move on with their lives. Many clients who have attended Crisis’ art classes have gone on to forge careers as artists, milliners and sculptors.

GSK also supports Crisis’ health services. Homelessness is very bad for your health. Individuals often need dedicated specialist support to recover from the isolation and hardship of homelessness. Whether it’s by joining a group visit to the theatre, attending a yoga class, or taking part in a football tournament, Crisis offers people a chance to take part in engaging and sociable activities to help them rebuild their self-esteem.

Crisis Skylight Edinburgh
The Health and Well-being services offered at Edinburgh are run in tandem with our partner organisations in the region as part of our outreach approach.

WellChild

About the Charity:
There are thousands of children and young people living with a long-term or complex health condition in the UK. WellChild is the national charity working to ensure the best possible care and support for all these children and their families wherever they are and whenever they need it.

GSK Support:
GSK has been in partnership with WellChild since 2007, primarily focusing on the WellChild Children’s Nurse programme, the Medicines for Children online resource for parents and carers, the WellChild Awards, and the WellChild Helping Hands Dinner. GSK is currently funding nine WellChild Children’s Nurse posts at different locations around the UK, helping to ensure that children can be cared for at home rather than in hospital. GSK is also title sponsor of the annual WellChild Awards, a ceremony to honour the bravery and tenacity of inspirational children and young people in the UK living with serious illness or complex health conditions, and the healthcare professionals who care for them. The WellChild Awards also serve as an opportunity to help raise further awareness of the many issues faced by these children, young people and their families.

Charity | Town | Year
--- | --- | ---
The Junction | Edinburgh | 2015
Supporting children and young people at risk of engaging in harmful behaviour to help them make positive choices that promote their health and wellbeing. Working in a deprived area of Edinburgh, The Junction sees young people as ‘assets’ rather than ‘problems’. Its services, such as counselling, street work, alcohol, drug and sexual health support; are based around young people’s needs, and are available at the right location, at the right time, with no need to navigate across different service pathways.

Open Secret | Falkirk | 2014
Open Secret are a community based organisation who provide confidential support to individuals and families whose lives have been impacted by childhood abuse or trauma. They work with survivors of all ages. They services are available primarily in the Forth Valley area, but some aspects of their service are available throughout Scotland.

Glasgow Science Centre (GSC)

Glasgow

About the Organisation:
Glasgow Science Centre’s mission is to promote science and technology. They use thought-provoking, fun and exciting experiences that inspire all to explore and understand the world around them.

Glasgow Science Centre provides curriculum aligned learning experiences to more than 100,000 Scottish school children every year, ranging from first steps in science for nursery schools children to advanced higher level experiments that are difficult for schools to deliver.

GSK Support:
BodyWorks on Tour is a successful educational outreach programme that focuses on health and well-being. With the support of GSK, the Glasgow Science Centre has taken science into communities and schools from Stranraer to Stromness, literally the length and breadth of Scotland. In doing so, the initiative has reached around 550,000 people, or 1 in 10 of Scotland’s population.

Dispersed, remote or isolated communities may not easily come to visit the Science Centre. ‘BodyWorks on Tour’ goes on the road to ensure that these groups benefit from an exciting and educational experience.

The ‘On Tour’ experience has been developed into two health and well-being programmes – BodyVision and FitLab. BodyVision looks at issues like how lifestyle choices can make a difference to your body and FitLab uncovers the effects of exercise on your body and how to reach your personal best.
